

BROWN HANGED.

Execution of a Colored Murderer in North Carolina.

HALIFAX, N. C., Dec. 14.—Enoch Brown, colored, was hanged here Friday morning. The murder for which Brown swung was particularly brutal, malicious and cold-blooded. It was committed August 17 near Tillery Station, on the line of a branch railroad. Brown had been living in that neighborhood only about a month, had that day a quarrel with his wife. This began early in the morning and became intensified until finally all the brute in the negro developed itself. At noon Brown went home from his work in the field to dinner. His wife was standing at a table making bread. He stepped in the door, picked up an axe, and as he turned, half facing him, struck her a blow on the neck, severing her head from her body. He then ate his dinner and returned to work, leaving home at night and burying her body in a shallow grave near his cabin door, where it was found by neighbors three weeks later.

The murderer was captured, tried and convicted last month. He confessed the deed, but said he only intended to scare his wife and not to kill her.

The execution took place at the jail at 7:30 in the morning in a heavy rain storm. The execution was private and was seen by only forty persons. The prisoner made a confession and died by strangulation. A large crowd gathered outside the jail yard, mainly negroes, including hundreds of women. The Sheriff being absent in Texas after John Lee, the escaped murderer, Deputy Sheriff J. D. Derr was in charge of the arrangements.

SALVATION RIOTS.

Bloody Battle Between the Populace and the Cranks in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—A desperate battle took place late at night between about 300 roughs, of Kensington, and the Salvation Army at the barracks on Fifth and Berks streets. The fight was prolonged, bitter, and a second attack resulted in the partial demolition of the barracks of the army and the complete route of the religious enthusiasts, with many injured and wounded. Police Officers Fields was hurt. It was now a matter of life and death, and the police fired upon the mob. The greatest confusion followed. The roughs were undaunted, however, and the attack was renewed, when the police for the second time opened fire. The second volley had the desired effect. Few arrests were made, but quite a number were injured.

Death of General Edward Hamilton.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 14.—General Edward Hamilton, aged eighty-two, died in this city after a brief illness. He served with distinction in the Mexican war. For a number of years he was prominently identified with Ohio politics, conducting at one time a lively Whig paper. In 1890 he was appointed by President Taylor Territorial Secretary of Oregon, and served while General Joseph Lane acted as Provisional Governor of the Territory.

Found $5,500.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 14.—W. S. Lacey, yardmaster at the depot here, found $5,500 in bonds belonging to C. C. Davis, the Wallace, N. H., druggist, which one of the burglars who escaped a few nights ago secreted. The warrant upon which Crandall, the alleged burglar, was captured the other night, was today nullified and a new one issued, and he was rearrested.
